On the future of services at Townlands Hospital, Henley-on-Thames

Oxfordshire Clinical Commissioning Group (OCCG) is the organisation responsible for planning, organising and purchasing NHS-funded hospital and community healthcare for residents.

We are gathering views and feedback on our proposals for future services at Townlands Hospital in Henley. OCCG has been discussing developments and the need to change the original service offer with local NHS service providers, local GPs and the Townlands Steering Group.

As part of this work we want to understand the public point of view about the proposed changes to services in Townlands Hospital. As part of the consultation we will be holding a public workshop on Thursday 21 May, 6pm – 9pm, in Henley-on-Thames to enable people to discuss the proposals in more detail.
